

Information Notice — Eightcap Partnership

Full transparency: what I do, what I do not do, and why.

DRAK Infinity is a financial-markets education project. My mission: to make understanding the markets accessible, in both French and English, from beginner to advanced. This document explains, in full clarity, my partnership with the broker Eightcap.

WHAT I DO NOT DO

- ✗ I do not sell any financial product.
- ✗ I do not manage your money and have no access to your funds.
- ✗ I give no personalised investment advice.
- ✗ I make no promise of gain, return or performance.
- ✗ I operate no signals or copy-trading service.

My role stops at education and information-sharing. The decisions are entirely yours.

THE EIGHTCAP PARTNERSHIP

In my content, I may share links to Eightcap, a broker I appreciate. These are affiliate (partner) links: if you open an account through them, DRAK Infinity may receive a commission from Eightcap, at no additional cost to you.

I tell you this openly, because transparency is one of my values. I only share what I know and use — never in exchange for a promise made on your behalf.

RISK WARNING

Trading CFDs and leveraged products carries a high risk of rapid loss, which may exceed your initial capital. A majority of retail accounts lose money. Never invest money you cannot afford to lose. Past performance does not guarantee future results.

CHECK YOUR ELIGIBILITY

Before opening an account, verify that the broker is authorised to operate in your country of residence and that the entity serving you matches your jurisdiction. Protections (compensation schemes, leverage caps) vary by regulated entity. If in doubt, check with the relevant regulator — for example the AMF in Quebec, or the AMF / ACPR in France.

Protected document. Unauthorised reproduction, modification, extraction or distribution is strictly prohibited. This file is encrypted and locked against copying and editing.

